

FAQs

Is there a membership fee?

No, membership is free.

Do I have to reside on the Central Coast to be a member?

No, any women who loves to travel can join the Central Coast Women's Travel Club

Why did we start up a travel club for women?

Whilst working in Travel we've realised there are many women who want to travel do not have a travelling companion or do not feel confident or safe travelling on their own. A women's group is ideal for those situations. Plus, it's a lot of fun travelling with likeminded ladies!

Do I have to be a single woman to join?

Not at all, there are many reasons why women travel. Very often husbands/partners can't travel or aren't interested in the destination. Some women love to travel with other women – dynamics in women's group travel is different!

What is the average age of the women in the club?

Our members are women of all ages however the average is 45 to 70.

I've noticed not all the tours include flights...why?

Flexibility is one of the reasons for not including flights on all tours. Women may wish to start their holiday earlier and then join the tour, they may be travelling from a different gateway or they may want to continue to another destination. There are a variety of reasons why flights are not always included.

I see cheaper tours advertised – what's the difference?

The main differences with our tours are:

- The tours are put together especially for the Central Coast Women's Travel Club members
- There will never be more than 16 ladies on our tours (the more passengers on a tour the cheaper it becomes, this is not the aim of the CCWTC).
- Small groups allow more opportunity to offer unique experiences.
- Our tours range between 3.5 star and luxury.

I prefer my own room on the tour – can I?

Yes, your own room is available, and we negotiate the best rate possible for single supplements.

If I don't have a roommate but would like to share can you find one for me?

Yes, our booking forms give you the option to request to be matched with a roommate. We'll need to ask you a few general questions to help us with the match.

Are all departures guaranteed?

Several of our trips require a minimum number of passengers although we do our best to ensure all trips go ahead.
