

CCWTC NEWSLETTER

ISSUE NO 9 | MARCH 2021

Hello Ladies

Welcome to our March newsletter and a new year.

As you're all aware travel is still confined to our own backyard and the other States in Australia. Vaccinations are being rolled out so hopefully this means cruising around Australia will commence later in the year. We might even have international flight bubbles with Pacific countries and early next year flights to Europe and our Asian neighbours. I certainly hope so because I'm booking cruises and overseas trips for 2022! We have to stay positive!

Welcome 2021 Dinner

We held a welcome to 2021 dinner and cocktails towards the end of January. We tried out the new dining and cocktail venue at Swansea Workers' Club. It was lovely to welcome some of our newer members, it's wonderful that all our ladies intermingle and get to know each other. So much fun meeting new friends!

Our next day trip options are below....register your interest before they're booked out!! If you have a day trip you'd like to try let me know....

Another City Visited:

The border to Victoria opened in time for us to attend our niece's wedding in Ballarat. As with many brides this wedding had to be cancelled last October due to the Covid situation. We hadn't been to Ballarat, so we looked forward to exploring a new city. It's a very pretty city with many original buildings and many of the old homes are so beautifully restored and maintained. We spent time driving around the inner city streets looking at these beautiful homes.

We decided to travel home via the Alpine Way and Cooma...a very windy and, in some places, narrow road but very pretty. Although, the bushfires had done so much damage along the ridges many places looked like a scene from the apocalypse.

We had planned to be home by 7.30 pm and, were on track until, a flat tyre stopped us! We eventually made it home just after midnight. Thanks to an afterhours tow truck driver and a 24 hour tyre workshop. Did we have a spare? No! My car doesn't come with a spare....luckily it was on the way home but we still had a great few days away.
